SUMMARY

Marijampole Army Barracks is located on the southwest outskirts of Marijampole (Figure 1).

The installation covers approximately 160 acres and contains 5 administrative buildings, 7 barracks, 4 storage buildings, vehicle maintenance/storage-type buildings, 21 support buildings, and 3 small training areas (Figures 2 and 3).

veals continuous activity with a probable increase in usage of the training areas during the summer months. Better quality photography on more recent missions reveals that the northwest training area is being used for driver training instead of firing ranges as previously reported. No explosives storage is noted east of Marijampole. The storage area 500 meters south of the installation is believed to be non-military.
